

West Virginia Archives and History

Annual Report Fiscal 2012-2013

Archives and History maintains the Archives and History Library and the West Virginia State Archives; administers the highway marker program to designate historical sites; and provides support services and technical assistance to state, county, and historical organizations and institutions. Under the Code, the director of Archives and History serves as secretary to the citizen advisory Archives and History Commission and as staff to the Records Management and Preservation Board.

Mission

The mission of Archives and History is to collect and preserve West Virginia's public records and historical materials, to make these records available to the public and private sectors, and to disseminate historical information through publications and programs, so as to enrich the lives of past and present residents and future generations.

Highlights

- Archives and History YouTube page received 44,012 views
- 1,596 people attended programs in the Archives and History Library
- 978 new books and pamphlets, 482 state documents and 382 pages printed from documents in electronic form, and 82 rolls of microfilm added to collections
- 3 temporary exhibits set up in the library
- Records Management and Preservation Board awarded grants totalling $427,450 to support projects in 30 counties
- statewide county records preservation project assisted more than 12 counties
- 14 highway historical markers refurbished and 48 new/replacement markers erected, covering 29 counties
- more than 30,000 photographs, slides, and negatives added to collections
- Daily Trivia received 16,041 responses
- more than 600 students from 49 counties participated in History Bowl matches

As in the previous fiscal year, Archives and History focused on outreach to both existing constituent groups and prospective patrons in fiscal 2012-2013. Web offerings continued to expand, and the library continued to schedule evening programming twice a month. West Virginia's sesquicentennial was a focus for some staff members, who dedicated much time to presenting statehood lectures around the state, interviews and media work; and the director taped a segment for the documentary The Road to Statehood for Public Broadcasting. Staff also continued to coordinate efforts on History Bowl for the Division of Culture and History and to work on other educational activities.

ARCHIVES AND HISTORY

Library

During 2012-2013, the librarian added 978 items to the online Voyager® catalog, consisting of 639 books, 222 pamphlets, 87 CD-Roms, 2 DVDs, and 28 rolls of microfilm.

In addition, 14 Polk city directories were added to the collection, although these are not catalogued individually. Of these items, 720 were donated by 105 donors. Also during the year, as part of the weeding process, 235 items were withdrawn.

Reorganization of the vertical clipping and surname files was nearly completed, and an updated database of the two files was made available on the Web site through the West Virginia Memory Project.

The evening lecture programs, usually held on the first Tuesday and second Thursday of each month, continued (see boxes opposite and left). In addition to the regular monthly programming, the library hosted several special programs: "Paint Creek-Cabin Creek Revisited," with Ken Bailey, Fred Barkey, Paul Nyden, and Ginny Ayres, on September 22; "The Archaeology of the Thornhill Estate," with Annette Ericksen, on October 18, and "Frontier Forts," with Kim and Stephen McBride, on October 25, both in honor of Archaeology Month; and "The 35th Star," with Joe Geiger, on June 20, and "When Western Virginians Remained Loyal: West Virginia Statehood and the Union," with Aaron Sheehan-Dean, on June 21. The lecture programs remained popular, attracting 1,596 people to the library during the past year.

A display was set up in the library for a visit by veterans of the USS West Virginia in September 2012. In January 2013, as part of the activities surrounding the inauguration of Earl Ray Tomblin as governor, a large exhibit on West Virginia governors and inaugurations was set up in the library. On Sunday, January 13, a select group of individuals, including Gov. Earl Ray Tomblin and former Gov. Gaston Caperton, viewed the exhibit, which remained up until early February. In May, another large exhibit was set up in the library as part of the division’s sesquicentennial activities. That exhibit surveyed the state’s history from before statehood to recent times. It remained up until after June 20.

Web Site

The Archives and History Web site remained an important area of outreach activities in fiscal 2012-2013. Staff added 74 audio-video clips, 355,987 image files, 793 html/PDF text files, and 273,868 database records. Among the items added were Quick Quizzes (7 quizzes, 70 questions), Veterans Memorial biographies (30), finding aids for several collections, and new records in the Golden Horseshoe Winners, State Government Documents, and Periodicals databases.

Work on “Child of the Rebellion: An Archives and History Sesquicentennial Project,” including additions to the timeline and a weekly sesquicentennial question, was completed. Transcriptions of more than 300 militia letters that have been digitized and made available on the Web site were added for some or all of the correspondence of Barbour, Boone, Cabell, Calhoun, Clay, Doddridge, Gilmer, Hancock, and Kanawha counties. The transcriptions were prepared by students from Dr. Billy Joe Peyton’s class at West Virginia State University. In addition, a staff member completed a compilation of Civil War manuscripts, special collections, and archival holdings, which was placed online.

An online exhibit on governors' inaugurations, "Taking the Oath: 150 Years of Gubernatorial Inaugurations," was created in 2013. In addition to a section showing items that were on display in the library, the exhibit contains eight chapters covering 150 years of gubernatorial inaugurations and including short text passages accompanied by photos, documents, and audio-visual clips. The exhibit is available at <http://www.wvculture.org/history/exhibitsonline/inaugural/inauguralintroductiontoc.html>.

Portions of the Elaine Blue Collection were digitized and placed online, as were letters of Hatfield-McCoy feudist Alexander Messer.

On the Vital Research Records project, 2012-2013 saw the addition of the delayed birth certificates, some indexing of those portions of the project that were missed originally, and correction of indexing errors. For delayed births, 398,104 images and 179,911 records were added to the database. In order to make them searchable, a county field was added to 25,000 of the delayed births. Also added were 52 images and 1,174 records for Logan County and 43 records for Kanawha County. Staff responded to 609 e-mails and corrected 2,940 entries. The next focus will be wills and working with the Genealogical Society of Utah to coordinate volunteers to assist in the indexing. There already are 27 people who have indicated a willingness to help.

In other Internet activity, Archives and History's YouTube page had 44,012 views during the 2012-2013 fiscal year, nearly triple that of the previous year. A sizeable number of the views were of the Ellis Dungan documentary Tiger Shikar in India, uploaded in September 2012. It and other Dungan films, in particular Inside India: Village Life in Southern India, have attracted attention in India, making that country second only to the United States in the number of viewers of Archives and History's YouTube page in 2012-2013. Staff uploaded 77 videos, bringing the total number available as of June 30, 2013, to 162. The available videos include nearly all of the Archives and History evening programs, so that people who do not live nearby can still take advantage of these learning opportunities.

Collections

In 2012-2013, West Virginia Archives and History received the John C. Norman Sr. Collection, consisting of 642 sheets of architectural drawings and six volumes of specifications. Other collections received include two boxes of Jefferson County court documents for State of West Virginia vs. Walter Allen; two boxes of documents and sixty photographs of Louise Leonard, who served in the State Senate from 1971 to 1974; and more than 25,000 slides and 2,000 prints and negatives from the Department of Natural Resources. The State Archives also added 95 volumes to its yearbook collection. (See the accession list at the end of the report for a complete list of additions to the West Virginia State Archives collections in 2012-2013.)

Audiovisual Archives

Moving images from the audio-visual archives continued to be added to the Web site. Clips added during 2012-2013 include selections from many of the gubernatorial inaugurations from 1937 to 2005 and events from the state’s centennial in 1963. Clips from Archives and History’s Tuesday and Thursday evening programs in the library were also made available on the Web site, with longer versions prepared for uploading on YouTube. Also added to YouTube in 2012-2013 were selections from WWVU-TV’s Musical Masterpieces series; the documentary West Virginians in War, produced by Russ Barbour in 1994 for West Virginia Public Broadcasting; and footage on the USS West Virginia.

The collection received film and still image materials of Robert F. Gates, a pioneer in the production of films on strip mining. With a grant from the National Film Preservation Foundation to preserve the 1977 film For Liberty and Union, co-produced by Ellis Dungan Productions, which looks at the creation of West Virginia during the Civil War, Archives and History located a better print in Wheeling. Photochemical preservation of the film was in progress at the end of the fiscal year.

More than 100 rolls of microfilm were produced in filming 48 newspapers—28 weeklies and 20 dailies. Although the issues filmed had a date span of 1928-2013, most of the newspapers were from the 2011-2013 period. This project has reduced the backlog of newspapers housed in the collections area and preserved them in the more durable microfilm format. In order to assemble as complete a run as possible for filming, Archives and History continues to seek copies of missing issues. With almost all of the pre-2012 papers filmed, the staff microfilmer dedicates most of his time to filming current issues, thus allowing Archives and History to drastically reduce the number of newspapers for which it purchases film.

Records Management

The statewide county records preservation project staff continued to travel back and forth to county courthouses to collect and return deed books. Over the course of the year, staff digitized 1,482 record books and microfilmed 640 for fifteen counties: Calhoun, Gilmer, Kanawha, Logan, McDowell, Mercer, Monongalia, Pendleton, Roane, Summers, Tyler, Wayne, Webster, Wetzel, and Wirt. The vast majority of record books were deeds, but a few other county record books were digitized for Monongalia County.

In the tenth round of grants, thirty counties were awarded grants totaling $427,450 for projects scheduled to begin on July 1, 2013. Several of the grants were for $15,000 or more, with the largest ($32,727) being to Tucker County for the purchase of roller and moveable track shelving for the circuit clerk's office and to encapsulate and rebind marriage books and the assessor's copies of land books in the county clerk's office. The smallest grant was $1,576 awarded to Mason County to purchase updated tax maps, map binders, and one public access computer in the county clerk's office. A grant ceremony was held in March.

Culture and History Internal Support

Archives and History continued to play a substantial role in the division's West Virginia History Bowl, which tests eighth-grade students on their knowledge of history, art, preservation, and cultural topics, in its fourth year in 2012-2013. Regional competitions at the eight RESAs (Regional Education Service Agency) of the state's educational system were held in February and March 2013, and a play-in competition was added. The number of participating teams continued to grow, with 165 teams from 82 schools in 49 counties competing. The winning and runner-up teams from each RESA were eligible to participate in the state competition, which brought twenty-four teams to the Culture Center on April 30. In the championship round of the double-elimination tournament, Shady Spring Middle School defeated Fairview Middle School. Summersville Middle School placed third, while another team from Fairview Middle School placed fourth. As in previous years, Archives and History's assistant director handled planning for the division, several staff assisted with the regional and statewide competitions, and the library served as one of the competition venues for the statewide tournament.

Archives and History continued to provide support to other sections within the Division of Culture and History. The darkroom photographer provided 84 digital prints and images for Goldenseal magazine, published through the Communications unit, 220 prints and digital images for exhibits, and 38 for the Museums Section. Through arrangements made by the division, Archives and History also provided 59 gratis images to individuals in other state offices.

Archives and History continued to provide images for a rotating photo gallery display located in the north wing off the Great Hall, between the library and the entrance to the hallway leading to the Archives and History offices. At the start of the fiscal year, an exhibit on recreation in the state was on display. After a break, during which the space was utilized by the division, an exhibit on statehood was installed, which remained on display at the end of the fiscal year.

As was the case the previous year, staff were requested to devote a portion of their Memorial Day weekend to the division's annual Vandalia Gathering, and one staff member also continued to work with the annual Appalachian String Band Music Festival at Camp Washington-Carver. Several staff also were called upon to devote time during the state's sesquicentennial celebration. Staff provided assistance to other sections, in particular the Museums Section, as well as to the division.

Inter-Agency Support

Staff provided assistance to several state agencies regarding their records and retention schedules and also responded to requests for information on various topics from state agencies. Staff continued to assist the Department of Education with preparation of the Golden Horseshoe test.

Outreach

Archives and History staff were involved in various outreach activities during the year. The Archives Showcase and the monthly evening lecture series and genealogy programs were held in the Archives and History Library. Through division press releases, announcements on the Archives Web site and in Archives and History News, and by e-blast, constituents were notified about upcoming library events.

During fiscal 2012-2013, the director gave a number of presentations on Archives and History to historical and genealogical societies around the state, and he also spoke on historical topics, including addressing several groups throughout the year on West Virginia statehood. Other staff spoke on genealogy and history topics on several occasions as well. They also provided historical research assistance and information on Archives projects to members of the media. Archives and History also continued to emphasize outreach to the educational community with expanded Web resources and the History Bowl, discussed previously.

The seventeenth annual History Day at the Legislature was held on February 21, 2013. There were 48 History Heroes, and 66 groups registered for display space at the capitol. The fourteenth annual Hoot Owl was held in the Archives and History Library on April 5–6, 2013. Approximately forty people attended the all-night event, co-sponsored by Archives and History and the Mining Your History Foundation. Staff and MYHF volunteers assisted researchers in locating materials. Proceeds from the annual event are dedicated to purchase and support the collections of the Archives library.

Archives and History continued to publish the monthly newsletter West Virginia Archives and History News. The newsletter is distributed in the Archives and History Library; mailed to 126 West Virginia historical, genealogical, and preservation societies and related organizations; and provided to 49 state archives in the United States, 12 state repository libraries and the Library of Congress. An electronic version also is posted on the Archives and History Web site (<http://www.wvculture.org/history/ahnews/ahnews.html>). Once the electronic version is posted online, an e-blast is sent to notify people on the e-mail list that the latest issue is available.
